

Periodontology days at the Brno Dam

27.5.-28.5.2016 the Congress of the Czech Society of Periodontology took place in beautiful enviroment of Brno dam at the hotel Maximus Resort – a two day meeting of dentists and periodontologists.

Our programme was started by a main guest, Dr. Daniel Hess from Austria.

His lecture was: Periodontal therapy, clinical cases concerning Guide Bone Regeneration.

He really gave a very high expert level in his lecture. He demonstrated some clinical cases with very good outcomes in Implantology and Periodontology too.

His approach was fully logical, considering all the medicine aspects with the regard of prognosis, planning thoroughly, etc. His own casuistics were giving instructions and explanations, i. e. why to use the tooth extraction or not....what is important and what not.

Also his remarks about Endodoncy, Hygiene therapy, indications of GBR and what material should be used....all of this was very interesting. He especially devoted to use of Emdogain which seemed in certain clinical cases to have very good results. All the time though he stressed again and again... Keeping and Maintain the Oral health is the most important.

In the end of his lecture there was a big applause of more than 140 listeners.

The afternoon programme was assured by Dr. Jan Streblov (Praha), again a high level of Periodontology. His topic: Plastic surgery in Periodontology, a ten year experience.

Very good presentation with many pictures. He described quite openly successes and failures too, and...it was very important, what was the cause of these failures.

Sometimes, he said, we are not successful completely....but then we are „experienced“ at least. Yes, that has been true. He spoke about the graft use, the surgery techniques, he also mentioned the tunnelling, the movement of tissues, lateral, coronal, apical, etc.

All of this he demonstrated with his own clinical cases from his periodontal office.

The discussion was long and lively.

The next day was introduced by a lecture of Dr. Martin Starosta:

„Less common indications of autotransplantations“ In this topic together with the co-author Dr. Ivo Marek (an expert in Orthodontics) described some clinical cases of interdisciplinary approaches, means...using Periodontology, Implantology, Orthodontics together. The demonstrated cases were complicated, unusual. Anodontia, the teeth lost after injuries, etc.

But the interdisciplinary cooperation has functioned even with these very complicated cases.

The next lecture was by Dr. Peter Augustín /Brno/on behalf of authors:

Augustin,Fassman,Vokurka,Izakovičová-Hollá/ with the topic:

Plastic periodontal surgery, the management of soft tissues.

The lecturer was describing very precisely when and how to do the best for reaching clinical outcomes from the point of view dental esthetics, how to reach long –term good results when doing periodontal surgery.

The final lecture was introduced by Prof. RNDr. Jiří Patočka, DrSc., with the topic: „Endogenous disruptors and environmental health“ /České Budějovice/.

That was a general medicine topic but the audience never minded. On the contrary, we heard quite clearly what can do some harm, what can be a benefit for health, etc.

Polluted air, food, water...all his remarks were very interesting and important.

He mentioned also the known affairs from the past/Thalidomid cases, the use of defoliants in the Vietnam war/. All of this meant a lot of unresponded questions from the point of view of our health. Anyway the co- author of the book „The poison time“ attracted the audience very much.

After the expert programme there was (on Friday afternoon) the Plenary session of the Czech Society of Periodontology (ČPS). The Chairman Dr. Korábek announced the next direction, heading and functioning of ČPS. We discussed the possible design of web pages of ČPS, www.perio.cz, the economic situation of ČPS, how to organize Periodontal days in the future.

Most of the members decided for the two days meeting model quite clearly.

Summary:

Periodontology days in Brno confirmed again the high level of our expertise work in Dentistry, high society level and mutual understanding too. See the pictures😊.

It was also confirmed the reality of great interest of dentists in general, not only the periodontologists, about the meetings of this kind.

The next meeting....attention please, only one day exceptionally, will be in Prague on the Friday 4.11.2016 More on the www.perio.cz
