

Periodontology days at Frymburk

The two day meeting of the Czech Perio Society took place at Frymburk, South Bohemia, during 24.5. - 25. 5. 2019.

The Friday programme

The invitation of the ČPS accepted a leading european periodontologist,

Dr. Alberto Fonzar,/Italy/. His topic was:

„The teeth with the severe periodontitis, is possible to maintain or it is better to extract? If maintain, how? “

He focused on the periodontal evaluation, the careful examination of the periodontal state, considering all possible conditions. Then he presented some of his therapeutical approaches and results. The furcation treatment, the conservative versus surgical therapy. When is better to use implants, etc.

The leading motto of his was: the minimum invasivity, trying to use the maximum healing capacity of the tissues and of course not to hurry up, let the tissues time for healing, for recovering, for the reparation process.

Dr. Michal Kania/Ostrava/,

„20 years of the Czech Perio Society – what is changed?“

The lecturer gave shortly an overview of the history of the ČPS.

The Society is considered to be successeful in the Czech Stomatology Chamber.

Dr.Raul Polanski/ Austria, University Graz/

„ The Vector treatment, some medical cases“ .

The presentation showed, that this method can have the right place when using the conservative periodontal treatment regardless of to be time consuming.

Dr. Pavel Poleník/Pilsen/,

„The Use of Lasers in Periodontology“

He demonstrated some clinical cases and video animations with his opinion that this sort of therapy can replace the classic surgical therapy very well, with the lesser invasivity and a very good time prognosis.

Dr. Martin Šembera/ Faculty Hospital Hradec Králové/ :

„The Periodontal case“

A difficult case of Parodontitis with a detailed explanation.

Dr. Radovan Slezák/FN H.Králové/

„Simple biomolecules in tooth paste can be equally effective as strong antiseptics“

Dr. Jiří Krug/Praha/

„Socket shield techniques“.

The lecturer with the help of a very good video documentation showed on some clinical cases this, not usual, method. It is interesting, little bit more difficult to manage, but with the minimum invasivity and with a very good esthetic result when considering the at once implantation or the postponed one in the frontal part in jaws.

Dr. Martin Starosta/Olomouc/:

„The aggressive periodontitis therapy“.

Dr. Starosta put the stress as for the right diagnosis of Parodontitis mainly.

The therapy must be emphasis on, not to be afraid of using antibiotics.

Dr. Martin Tomeček /Praha/

„Percrestal sinus-lift technique as the method of the first choice“.

The lecturer was stressing the need of the right decisions when to indicate the open sinus lift and when the closed one. Also he meant the „sausage“ technique.
